We, The Together in Christ Collaborative of St. Ann and St. John the Evangelist, welcome and engage all ages to become the disciples that Jesus is calling all of us to be. United by faith and in the Celebration of the Mass, we embrace the call of Jesus to live our mission to "Go forth and make disciples." Through evangelization, education, and by the empowerment of the Holy Spirit, we will grow together as One Body of Christ.

A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

My Dear Friends in Christ,

“Who is Jesus?” is, at once, a simple yet complex question. It is simple in the fact that we read about Jesus, we read His words and know His deeds. In all of this, we know of Him. The complexity of the question comes in moments such as the ones we see in today’s gospel. When Jesus asks His disciples about Himself, Jesus isn’t taking a poll, or gathering information. Jesus, in posing the questions that He does, wants to know if the people get it. Jesus wants to know if His disciples (and the people) understand His message, His mission and Him.

The second question posed in today’s gospel (“who do you say that I am?” (Mt 16:15)) is one which we must answer for ourselves. The answer which is given will, most likely, depend on where we are on our journey of faith. It is an answer which is ours and ours alone. There may be many people with the same answer, but it is still unique to us. We are on different points, each one of us, on the road to the Kingdom. We are unique in that our lives of faith center on our own personal relationship with God. The answer which we give to the question may also vary depending on our age, gender or state of life; this is what makes the answer unique.

Peter answers the question posed to Jesus in a very astute way. Peter recognizes Jesus for who He is – The Christ. He recognizes Jesus as the Son of God, the one who’s coming the prophets foretold. Peter speaks first (as he so often does!) and does so with conviction. It is for this reason that Jesus gives him the “charge” that He does - that of the “keys to the Kingdom”. In this moment, Peter is put in charge of the Church from its beginnings. It is at this moment that Peter is also given the power to “bind and loose”, which is the origin of what we would come to know as the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

For each one of us, the questions posed today will have vast and varied answers, and this is a good thing. It shows the diversity of the Church. The answers which we give will also have a unity, in that the all should point to the Christ, the Son of the Living God. It is Peter’s statement which “sets in motion” the movements of the early Church. It is up to us to continue this momentum, and to recognize that in our answers we give life and hope to the future of the Church. May we have the courage to answer the questions posed today with courage and conviction. May we not just know of Jesus, but may we know Jesus for who He is – Lord and Savior of the world.

Have a Blessed Week,

Fr. Paul

We have been in touch with Fr. Francis this week to make sure that he and his family are safe. They are. The unrest has not reached his town in Pakistan.

Fellowship Hour: Saturday 9/23

Join us after the 4 pm Mass on 9/23 for a Fellowship period to connect with fellow parishioners before you head out to dinner. There will be crackers and cheese, fruit and drinks so it's the perfect (and a free) appetizer! We will be set up in the rose garden between the church and the rectory. Sponsored by our Disciples of Hospitality.

Volunteer Drive

After all the Masses on the weekends of September 23-24 and September 30-October 1 we will be holding a Volunteer Drive. As we work to expand our ministries and revive some that have been dormant since the Covid shutdown, we need many more volunteers to make this possible. Please stop by the table to learn about the ways in which you can help our collaborative better minister to all those whom we serve.

In the next few weeks, we will be running a ministry spotlight in the bulletin so you learn more about our ministries.

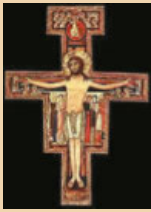

All current volunteers should plan on stopping by the table so that they can fill out their paperwork for this fiscal year.

August Sandwich Making for Capuchin Mobile Ministries

Every month we make sandwiches for Fr. Paul to take with him when he volunteers in Boston with Capuchin Mobile Ministries to serve the homeless. This month's date and time is:

Monday the 28th at 6:30 pm at St. Ann.

Please sign up here if you plan on helping: <https://forms.gle/GVyBxJg2uqHysShM8>. This link will also be posted on the parish websites.

MY FRANCISCAN JOURNE

When Francis decided to give the rest of his life in service to God, he didn't take the track expected of him. He did not pursue the priesthood, yet was known for his ability to captivate crowds with his preaching. He didn't choose the cloistered life of a monk, yet he embraced vows of poverty and chastity that set him apart in remarkable ways. He created a new way to follow Christ, one that required all the devotion and sacrifice of a religious calling, yet was lived out among the common people, especially the poorest of the poor. And people followed him by the thousands.

What made his life so appealing to so many? Among other things, Francis's love for Jesus was so explicit that he was naive enough to believe that Jesus actually meant for us to do the things he taught us. And while such a radical devotion often led him to extremes -- like when he interpreted Jesus' command to "preach the gospel to every creature" and so began to proclaim the good news to the birds -- it also produced in him a commitment to love God through loving others, especially those who lived on the margins of society, such as the poor and the lepers. He managed to draw to his movement both the simpleton and the academic, the lawyer and butcher, because his was a faith of actively imitating Christ.

Francis lived in a time when the church had taken for granted its position in the culture. Often compromised by wealth and political power, the church had lost credibility among the people. Many would worship Jesus at Mass, but few truly followed his teaching or example. Francis became a reformer, not through angry protests and recriminations against the corrupted clergy, but through his life of humble yet fearless obedience to Jesus. In other words, he knew that the best rebuke of the bad was the embodiment of the better.

In the face of a religious war, Francis walked across a continent to convince his fellow Christians to make peace. When that failed, he crossed the battle lines so that he could plea for peace for his "pagan" captors instead. In the face of poverty, he refused to accumulate wealth or property (which could have been utilized for noble ends), but instead choose to share life alongside the poor, creating communities where the wealthy and poor came together as sister and brother. And in a culture where he was surrounded by moral compromise, he refused to police people's behavior, instead demanding of himself and his brothers such a high standard that a watching world was humbled by their example.

Francis was far from perfect, prone to extremes and failings like any other human. Yet that is part of what makes him such a great example for us today. If he was perfect, we might too quickly dismiss him. In his imperfection, he is like us and, therefore, his example is one we might actually consider following. We might work for peace and change, even if it appears we are betraying our political or even religious allegiances. Far from some long-dead saint who's best known for being the inspiration for bird baths, St. Francis of Assisi invites us- dares us- to consider what life might be like if we followed his example.

The question is, are we willing to be naive enough to believe that Jesus actually means for us to do the things he asks? So...are we?

Dear Parishioners of St. John's and St. Ann, peace. Accept my sincere greetings from St. Benedict School. These two parishes are my home away from home. I thank your Pastor for the good spirit towards the poor. Thank you all for your continuous support.

As you can see in the picture, the boys' dormitory you begun last year is in progress. Your donation was put to good use. Thank you very much.

The project costs USD$195,074. More support still highly needed. If finished, over 200 boys will be able to sleep in that dormitory. Kindly help these boys who are walking long distance of 6 to 8 miles to school. We thank God the girls have a dormitory. There no houses to take students to school.

How can you donate? Write a check to St. John's or St. Ann. In the memo indicate St. Benedict Uganda. Money will be wired to Uganda. Thank you so much.
