My Dear Friends in Christ,

In today's economically challenging times, most of us give what we can. Whether it be in time, talent or treasure, we give to God that which we are able. Today's gospel, often referred to as "The Widow's Mite", is a reminder and a recommitment to the principle that we are called to give to God everything we have, not just the "surplus" or "leftover" – whether it be in time, talent or treasure.

In Jesus' day, according to the Mishnah (the "oral Torah"), there were receptacles (13 in all) standing against the wall of the Court of Women which were used to collect the gifts of the faithful for the Temple treasury. Jesus and His disciples observed the people coming into the Temple who offered their gifts of support for the works of the Temple. The thing that struck Jesus, and the point of today's gospel, is the fact that, while many gave out of their surplus, the widow gave two leptons (the equivalent of two pennies), basically all that she had. This moved Jesus to comment, and the comment cut the Scribes and the Pharisees to the quick, for they knew the comment was meant for them.

Today's gospel is a poignant reminder to us that we owe God not just our surplus, our excess. We owe God all that we have, all that we are. We can give this in many ways. There is the aforementioned "schema" of "time, talent and treasure". You might be thinking to yourself, "well, yes Father Paul, we can give our time and talent, but don't you want our 'treasure'?" It would be foolish and disingenuous of me to sit here and say that the "treasure" part of the equation didn't matter. There are some in our community, however, who cannot give "treasure" but who can – and do – give of their "time" and "talent". I remember a situation with a young bride and groom who came to me to be married. They mentioned that they were paying for the wedding themselves, and if there is any way they could pay the Church offering over time, or come to another suitable arrangement, it would be appreciated. In speaking about this, the groom-to-be mentioned that he was a landscaper, and that he could "beautify" the property in lieu of the monetary offering. I jumped at the opportunity (knowing that the pastor had wanted to "spruce up the place"), and the arrangement was mutually beneficial.

God gives us an abundance of gifts. To some, God gives "treasure"; to some, "talent"; to some, "time"; to a lucky few, all three! No matter what God gives us, let us be prepared to give God our all, knowing that He has already given us His all. God gave Jesus to the world, and Jesus gave His life so that all might have life, and life abundantly. May we use our time, talent and/or treasure to the fullest, giving back to God all that He has given us.

Have a Blessed Week,

Fr. Paul

MY FRANCISCAN JOURNEY

Today's readings speak of the "widow's mite", and how she gave everything she had when it came to honoring God. Jesus commended the widow for her generosity and told His disciples that we must do the same, not just giving from our "surplus" (that which is "left over") but out of our "want" (giving from the very start). When one looks at St. Francis, one can say that in the beginning of his life Francis was hesitant to give even of his surplus. He was accustomed to, and desirous of, the "good life" – of pleasure, of worldly desires. Upon his conversion, upon meeting the leper on the road, Francis' life took a dramatic turn.

When Francis met the leper on the road, he was on his way to another adventure, another opportunity to further his "stake" in the world. Upon meeting the leper, his mind, heart, and life were changed and he experienced a conversion which led him to give the very clothes off of his back. In exchanging clothes with the leper, Francis wasn't merely making a change of wardrobe, but truly a change of heart! In donning the clothes of the leper, Francis was making a statement about his life and the change that this conversion brought.

When we look at the gospel in light of St. Francis and his life, we can see a parallel. Francis, in the early part of his life, was like those who gave of their surplus. They, like Francis, gave merely out of obligation and out of a desire, perhaps like those scribes who "accept greetings in the marketplaces, seats of honor in synagogues, and places of honor at banquets" (Mark 12:38-39), to win esteem in the world. After his conversion, Francis was more like the widow (not looking for glory but to honor God). From exchanging his clothes with the leper on the road to giving his clothes to his father in the town square, Francis' giving of these material goods signified an interior change. From that point on, Francis' focus was aligning himself with the poor of the world. His conversion brought about a desire to please God above all else, and it showed in the formation of the Franciscan Order. As Secular Franciscans, this is our focus as well – to please God above all else. May we all experience such a conversion – of mind, heart, and life. May we see Christ in others and be Christ for others, especially the materially, emotionally, and spiritually impoverished.

Pax et Bonum,

Fr. Paul

The Deacon's Column

Due to the recent storm and the challenges we all faced without power, Deacon Chris's article will not appear in this week's bulletin. His column will resume next week.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

The Look

Have you ever made the mistake of telling your spouse that you're out of something — only to see them respond with The Look? Then you realize it: of course, he or she knows you're out of butter. They knew it before a butter shortage was even a blip on your radar.

We might go to the fridge and lament the complete lack of ketchup. Then someone moves a couple items and show us the ketchup that so savagely eluded us just moments before.

Sometimes, we all have "the look" when dealing with God. We tell Him our stores are empty. "I'm out, God! I can't do any more! Can't give any more. Can't take any more. It's all gone." But we forget: God is the keeper of our stores. He is the one who fills them, and the one who watches as they empty.

See, we don't know how much we are capable of loving. We don't know how much we are capable of serving. We don't know how much we are capable of hoping. We see everything with spouse eyes. Only our Creator truly knows the limits of His creation.

Do you ever make the mistake of telling God "I'm done"? Be careful the next time you do. Chances are, He's far from finished working.

Vocation or Calling

Can you explain what we mean by a vocation or calling? I have heard this term used in many different contexts and am not sure what it means. Does it apply to religious life?

A vocation or calling refers to a spiritual experience whereby a person senses within oneself the closeness of God and what he is asking in one's life. It is a realization of what one's part in God's plan could be. Vocation comes in all kinds of ways. Some are as dramatic as St. Paul's, being knocked off his horse, blinded, and hearing God's voice. Others are less dramatic, often occurring over time through little events and personal interests. Others happen in a hurry, accompanied by great spiritual insight or conversion. We often think that this applies to religious vocation, but in fact, every Christian has a vocation, a calling to serve others in and through the church. Whether married or single, religious or lay, we are all called to live out our baptismal commitment to preach and teach the Gospel message. Each of us has our role to play in God's plan, and we become coworkers with God in the work of redemption. With a little confidence, a willing spirit and God's grace, we can and will respond to his unique call.

Choir Is Back!

One who sings prays twice. If you would like to pray twice by singing in the Together in Christ Collaborative Choir please plan to attend choir rehearsal on Thursdays at 7:00 PM at Saint John's.

Please email Rich, our music director at richcesarini@gmail.com in advance so that he will have enough copies of music for everyone.

Hello,

At times during the pandemic congregational singing was discouraged and congregants were ushered out of the church in a safe manner at the end of mass during the closing hymn. Now that restrictions have been lifted it is a good time to remind ourselves that a liturgy begins with the first notes of the opening song and ends with the final notes of the closing song. We ask that you stay and participate in the closing song if you know the words or stay and enjoy it if you don't know the words. The closing song is one last opportunity to sing God's praises in church before we leave to go about our week. We look forward to having hymn books back in the pews in late November so that everyone can read along.

Thank you and God Bless.
