“I prefer you to make mistakes in kindness than work miracles in unkindness.”

–Do Something Beautiful for God: The Essential Teachings of Mother Teresa, January 22nd

Our words and actions are important, but our intentions behind them cannot be underestimated. If we try to do good works for show, selfish purposes, or without real kindness behind them, we miss the point of doing good at all. While we cannot always control how events play out, we can always control our intentions. If we put kindness into everything we do—great or small—we make the world a more beautiful place.

Challenge of the Week: How can you be truly kind to someone today?

Are you interested in being a lector or Eucharistic Minister?
