THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

Then taking the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he said the blessing over them, broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the crowd. They all ate and were satisfied. And when the leftover fragments were picked up, they filled twelve wicker baskets. - Lk 9:16-17

Why can't everyone who wants to receive Communion, receive Communion at Mass?

Outside of the Church, many organizations have all sorts of requirements for membership: dues, achievements, professional standings, etc. The requirements bring the group together in common purposes and goals. Within the Church, there are also basic "requirements" for receiving the sacraments. As Catholics, we believe that the Eucharist is the true "Bread of Life." It is the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ. When we receive the Eucharist, we are receiving Jesus. Out of reverence for Christ, only those in union with this teaching and in a state of grace should receive communion. As Catholics, we should abstain from communion if we are in mortal sin.

While we share many articles of faith with our Protestant brothers and sisters, their understanding of this teaching is fundamentally different. For most non-Catholic churches, they do not believe that Christ becomes truly present in the Eucharist. As such, they should not receive communion in a Catholic Church. These differences are greater for people of non-Christian faiths, and even more apparent for those who do not believe in God. Receiving communion is not a right, but a gift to be accepted in humble, trusting faith.

NOTES FROM THE PASTOR

My Dear Friends in Christ,

Today, we in the Church celebrate the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi). It is appropriate that we celebrate this feast on a Sunday. For many years, it was celebrated on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday (which was this Sunday, past). Because it is not a Holy Day of Obligation here in the United States, it was moved to the Sunday after Trinity Sunday. This was done so that the faithful could develop and grow a deeper appreciation of, and devotion to, the Eucharist.

The Eucharist is, as the Catechism of the Catholic Church states, the "source and summit of the Christian life" (CCC, 1324). It is also seen by the Church as "the efficacious sign of that communion in the divine life and that unity of the People of God by which the Church is kept in being" (CCC, 1325). In a nutshell, it is what we are all about in the Church and world. It is, to a great degree, what makes us "Catholic". Many of our Christian brothers and sisters celebrate Holy Communion, but see it as a symbol of a greater mystery. We in the Catholic Church, on the other hand, see Holy Communion as the Real Presence of Christ: His Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity, found in the offering made at the altar each and every Sunday (if not each and every day). This gift of "transubstantiation", done in memory of Christ, joins heaven to earth; it links the Kingdom of God created here on earth by God's grace with the Kingdom of God yet to be seen by us. Furthermore, it makes the sacrifice of Jesus Christ real for us, helping us to remember the power in the words offered by Christ at the Last Supper: "this is my Body...this is my Blood" (Mt 26:26, 28; Mk 14:22, 24; Lk 22:19-20).

This "power" translates into action, the action of the people to carry forth the Presence of Christ into the world. We become, in essence, "living tabernacles" - repositories for the Body and Blood of Christ for our brothers and sisters to see. While they cannot see the actual Body and Blood, the world knows that we have partaken in the Eucharistic celebration by how we live our lives. They know by our words and deeds that we are living the promise of Jesus Christ to be with us until He comes again. The reception (both in demeanor and attitude) of this gift, therefore, is important. One should be as "properly disposed" (i.e. in a "state of grace") as possible, availing oneself to the Sacrament of Reconciliation frequently and living in union with the Church and Her ways. One should always strive to be in "right relationship" with God, knowing in their heart that they are committed to the principles which Christ, Himself, established – to love God and neighbor. When one does this, one can receive Holy Communion with an open and loving heart, ready to share that love (which comes from God) with all whom they meet.

Have a Blessed Week,

Fr. Paul

MY FRANCISCAN JOURNEY

Today the Church celebrates the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi). Though he lived eight centuries ago, St. Francis still inspires people today with his radical embrace of “Lady Poverty” and his love for all of God’s creatures. Yet, it is his zeal for something else that comes out most strongly in his writings: his great love of Christ in the Eucharist and concern that the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass be offered properly.

“I conjure you all to show all reverence and all honor possible to the most holy Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ,” St. Francis wrote in his Letter to All the Friars, “in whom the things that are in heaven and the things that are on earth are pacified and reconciled to Almighty God.”

In his Letter to All the Faithful, he exhorts Christians to reverence priests, not on account of their own holiness (or lack thereof), but because they offer the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass: “We ought...to visit Churches frequently and to reverence clerics not only for themselves, if they are sinners, but on account of their office and administration of the most holy Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which they sacrifice on the altar and receive and administer to others.”

He addressed priests as well, and wrote On Reverence for the Lord's Body and on the Cleanliness of the Altar in which he exhorts them to take seriously their sacred duties at the altar. “Let us all consider, O clerics, the great sin and ignorance of which some are guilty regarding the most holy Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ and His most holy Name and the written words of consecration.” He continues: “[L]et all those who administer such most holy mysteries, especially those who do so indifferently, consider among themselves how poor the chalices, corporals, and linens may be where the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ is sacrificed. And by many it is left in wretched places and carried by the way disrespectfully, received unworthily and administered to others indiscriminately.

“Shall we not by all these things be moved with a sense of duty when the good Lord Himself places Himself in our hands and we handle Him and receive Him daily? Are we unmindful that we must needs fall into His hands? Let us then at once and resolutely correct these faults and others; and wheresoever the most holy Body of our Lord Jesus Christ may be improperly reserved and abandoned, let It be removed thence and let It be put and enclosed in a precious place.”

He solemnly warns priests that they will be judged by how they perform their sacred duties: “[W]e know that we are bound above all to observe all these things by the commandments of the Lord and the constitutions of holy Mother Church. And let him who does not act thus know that he shall have to render an account therefore before our Lord Jesus Christ on the Day of Judgment.”

THE SECOND COLLECTION THIS WEEK CONTINUES TO PAY FOR THE BULKHEAD AT ST. JOHN'S & THE SIDING AT THE RECTORY OF ST. ANN'S. (The cost of these jobs is about $5,000. We have only collected approx. $2,000 so far.)

The misery continues—A situation at St. John's that we have been trying to correct ourselves has reached a level beyond our control.

Animals and mice are getting in the Rectory and we need an exterminator ... another unexpected expensive bill. We will keep you posted. St Ann's Rectory also has mice.

But his ardent belief of the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist is expressed most clearly in his Letter to All the Friars with this poetic exclamation: “Let the entire man be seized with fear; let the whole world tremble; let heaven exult when Christ, the Son of the Living God, is on the altar in the hands of the priest. O admirable height and stupendous condescension! O humble sublimity! O sublime humility! That the Lord of the universe, God and the Son of God, so humbles Himself that for our salvation He hides Himself under a morsel of bread.”

May we have a similar love of Christ in the Eucharist and reverence of Holy Mass! St. Francis of Assisi, please pray for us.

Pax et Bonum,

Fr. Paul, OFS
