At that time, John said to Jesus, "Teacher, we saw someone driving out demons in your name, and we tried to prevent him because he does not follow us." Jesus replied, "Do not prevent him. There is no one who performs a mighty deed in my name who can at the same time speak ill of me." - Mk 9:38-39

My Dear Friends in Christ,

There is an old saying which states that “the enemy of my enemy is my friend”. It surmises that if someone is combating another who is at cross-purposes with your goals and objectives, they are “in your camp” as your ally. This can be true in the realms of government, military or even ministry. This is the point which Jesus is making in today’s gospel.

As the renown of Jesus grows, the number of followers and disciples grows as well. The Twelve report back to Jesus that they saw others (not of their company) performing miraculous acts. Jesus “sets the record straight” by letting the listener know that one cannot both do the works of God and speak/act against God. If they are truly “of God”, that is working, speaking and acting with the purpose of building up the Kingdom and furthering the mission of Jesus, then they cannot be wrong. There are ways to test this ministry; Jesus would later remark that “each tree is known by its own fruits” (Mt 7:20). In this way, one can determine if one is acting in the name of God or if one is working for one’s own purpose and gain. It can be as simple as providing a cup of water, for the work of God is charitable love.

St. Paul speaks of this in our second reading. He speaks of the rich storing for themselves treasures. In doing so, they are not looking to build up the Kingdom – they are looking to build up their own bank account. This might give them security for now, but in the long run it will be held in testimony against them (see Jas. 5:3). The “treasures” which we are to store up for ourselves are not things which this world can provide. They are things such as mercy, understanding, patience, peace, and love. When we secure treasures such as these, we unite ourselves to Christ and His Kingdom.

May we have the courage to prophesy in the name of God. May we pray for the knowledge and wisdom which comes from God alone, a spiritual “sight” which allows us to see things for how they are and not how they are perceived. May we come to know God’s mercy for us and may we share that mercy, forgiveness and love with all whom we meet.

Have a Blessed Week,

Fr. Paul

MY FRANCISCAN JOURNEY

Today's Mass Readings speak of having the gifts of prophecy (First Reading) and healing (the Gospel passage which speaks of someone not of Jesus' company driving out demons), presumably receiving those gifts from God. As I reflected on these passages, my mind went to the origins of St. Francis' mission to "rebuild my Church".

Most of us have heard the story. Francesco Bernadone (later known as "Francis of Assisi") was a restless young man, unable to find his calling. His dreams of being a heroic knight had turned into a bit of a nightmare after spending time as a prisoner of war. His father, Pietro, wanted his son to follow in the family business, but that didn't interest Francesco, either. What to do? He found himself wandering about the outskirts of his home town of Assisi in the hills of Umbria – breathtaking vistas at every turn, but he seemed to hardly notice. Until, that is, he came upon San Damiano, a little church in need of a good bit of repair. He entered and knelt down underneath a large wooden crucifix painted in an icon-like fashion. The eyes of Jesus on the cross seemed to lock him in a stare that was both intimidating and beckoning at the same time. He couldn't look away as feelings of doubt and fear, guilt and desire welled up within him. "Lord, what do you want me to do?" he asked. "Show me what you want me to do with my life." And the Lord answered! A voice as clear as the day responded: "Francis, go and rebuild my church which, as you see, is falling down." That was all he heard. That was all he needed to hear. It took a bit longer, however, to realize that Jesus wasn't asking him to physically rebuild San Damiano as well as a few other rundown churches near Assisi. He did that, of course, but it gradually dawned on him that his vocation was to rebuild the church, the human institution that was perilously close to falling apart.

This is why I wrote the word "Church" with a capital "C". Initially, Francis misheard the calling. It was not the building of San Damiano which God wanted him to fix (even though it was very much in need of repair), but the "Church as institution" which God wanted Francis to bring back to glory. This begs the question "what is it that God is calling you to 'rebuild'?" Is it a relationship with someone? Is it a life ravaged by drugs or alcohol? Is it your relationship with God? No one's life is perfect, and we are all in need of healing. To listen to that "voice" which calls one to go beyond oneself is a challenging thing to do. Sometimes it means moving out of our "comfort zone". Sometimes it means defying our own, or others', expectations or limitations (like in today's readings). St. Francis, once he properly discerned his calling, was that prophetic voice and healing presence. May we have the courage to quiet our hearts, shut out the distractions of the world, and listen to (and respond to) the voice from God, which Francis heard, that calls us to do whatever work is ours to do. May we pray for the gifts of discernment (to interpret) and courage (to act) on whatever it is God is calling us to do.

Pax et Bonum,

Fr. Paul

My Brother's Keeper is a vibrant, welcoming Christian ministry that delivers household furniture, healthy groceries, and Christmas gifts to local families in need. This charitable organization was founded in 1988 by a husband and wife from the basement of their home. Today, 5,000 volunteers and 18 employees work together from two modern facilities to make 18,600 deliveries each year.

The title of Paul Key's talk comes directly from the mission statement of My Brother's Keeper. Paul will speak about his own experiences with My Brother's Keeper and the need for all Christians to bring the love and hope of Jesus to the world.

Paul is a Permanent Deacon in the Archdiocese of Boston, serving at Sts. Mary & Joseph Collaborative in Plymouth/Kingston. In this role he oversees two Ministries that work directly with people experiencing homelessness, Matthew's Kitchen and Friends of Lazarus.
